Overview

"How do we grow a learning collective of International School senior leaders across Asia?"

The Leadership Learning Collective is an innovative opportunity for senior leaders in international schools across Asia to extend their self-awareness, connections, agency, confidence and competence. Our first cohort is underway with 36 senior leaders from 10 countries around Asia. Applications are now open for our next cohort, starting in August 2026. Applicants are encouraged to apply as pairs from each school (however, we also welcome individuals and small groups of leaders) so they can collaborate on projects and more effectively transfer learning back to their schools.
